M.R. Website Development Studio Donates ‘Raise the Roof’ Website

The Raise the Roof Fundraising Committee is getting the word out about the campaign via a new website . www.raisetheroofbattlefords.com . launched on Thursday, June 24th.

Mike Ritchie, Manager of M.R. Website Development Studio, is very excited to be involved in the Credit Union CU Plex project.

We chose to participate in the project in recognition of the importance of the facility, said Ritchie. My team and I believe the Credit Union CU Plex will strengthen the Battlefords community by enriching the lives of our residents, encouraging healthy youth recreation and by making the Battlefords an attractive place to visit, live and invest.

The website is a replica of the brochure developed by the Raise the Roof committee and lists both contribution opportunities and sold sponsorships to date. The site also features the current fundraising total on the home page as well as news releases, how to get involved, visuals and separate pages for each of the four components.

The Credit Union CU Plex Fundraising Committee would like to thank M.R. Website Development Studio for not only building and launching the website at no cost, but also for the maintenance of it and getting it up and running so quickly.
